

Hello Music Lovers, I am the mother of 10 year old Jackson, a fifth grader at Allen Park Elementary and a former music student of Mr. Music. I would like to avow how pleased I was with the private music lessons my child received from the staff and I wholeheartedly promote "Mr. Music" for private lessons at any age. My son, Jackson, took music lessons at Mr. Music for over 3 years and is an advanced guitar player at the age of 10. He thoroughly enjoyed his one-on-one sessions with the instructors. As a result, my child's level of playing is at the tenth grade school level. Jackson has also flourished in his academic scholastic progress from the individual private music lessons. Unfortunately, due to the economic downturn, I am presently unemployed and had to stop the lessons. However, when I become part of the workforce in the near future, I will enroll my son in private music lessons once again with "Mr. Music"! And, I must say, they are the most reasonable lessons in Southwest Florida!

Jackson misses the staff at Mr. Music, specifically his instructor Frank S., Bob Lucas the store manager, and Dave Magnante the owner. Although Jackson continues to practice his guitar every day since stopping the lessons, he cannot wait to join "Mr. Music" once again and receive the wonderful praises from Dave's staff that truly inspired his musicianship! I cannot attest enough how the music lessons helped to cultivate my son's creative and critical thinking skills which have given him confidence and an appreciation for all kinds of music.

Whether or not my son becomes a musician/performer in his adulthood remains to be seen...and of course, is up to Jackson—but I am forever grateful to the staff at Mr. Music for increasing his academic performance in school, promoting his artistic expression and accelerating his musicality...beat that Guitar Hero! Holly, a.k.a. Jackson's Mama
